

Preserving Our Future

It is the exception, and not the rule, for one physician's name to be spoken across the country with an equal amount of recognition and reverence; Dr. Richard C. Staab was that physician.

The OSU Internal Medicine program prepares residents who continue to be touched by his legacy; and it is our mission to change the exception into the rule. Every year, this training program graduates thirteen internal medicine physicians who go on to carry his legacy either into practice or on to fellowship.

We, as their trainers, are committed to each one of these residents and see their potential to change the landscape of osteopathic medicine. Our commitment comes from a place that has been entrenched into our practice and we continue to put forward efforts, such as this symposium, to ensure Dr. Staab's legacy is not forgotten.

Richard C. Staab Internal Medicine Graduate Fund

The fund was initiated for the purpose of supporting the ongoing educational needs of the residents and fellows in the Internal Medicine Department at OSU Medical Center. It's through funding such as this, that we are able to maintain the academic integrity of the physicians that OSU Medical Center continually places into the community.

In addition, this memorial fund will also pay tribute to Dr. Staab, a prominent oncologist who had ties to Tulsa and understood the mission of training young osteopathic physicians. The proceeds of this symposium are deposited annually into the Richard C. Staab Internal Medicine Graduate fund to enhance the educational resources available to the trainees in the internal medicine department at OSU Medical Center.
